[A mother and daughter are discussing university.]

A :

- (1) ① Hey mom, I was wondering if you'd had any more thoughts about going to university?
- ② Hey mom, my school told me that I should think about going to university next year.
- ③ Hey mom, don't you believe that going to university is unnecessary for people like me?
- ④ Hey mom, I've been thinking about what universities should do to plan for our future.

B : I think you should too. It'll be very important for your future, don't you think?

A :

- (2) ① Your future isn't actually my problem. You should decide that.
- ② I think that too much thinking isn't good for anyone, even me.
- ③ I know, but I can't decide what subject I'd want to study there.
- ④ You should enjoy the challenge, and let me make a good choice.

B : It's best to study something that you enjoy. What are your favorite subjects?

A : 3

- (3) ① History is one possibility, but sciences would be so much better.
- ② Except for history, I like studying most of my subjects nowadays.
- ③ If you dislike history as much as I do, then you have no choice here.
- ④ Well, I like history. I love studying about people's lives in the past.

B : That's a good place to start. Which universities have the best history courses? What does your history teacher say?

A : 4

- (4) ① She told me that her old university, Durham, has a great reputation.
- ② She said that although she studied at Durham, I shouldn't copy her.
- ③ She suggested that I should ask her advice for a recommendation.
- ④ She informed me that I should really go a long way from Durham.

B : Durham is a long way away. You'd have to live in a dormitory on your own.

A : 5

- (5) ① That's true, but if the dormitory is far from the university, I don't mind.
- ② That's something that I'd rather leave to you. It's not very important.
- ③ That's part of the experience. I'm looking forward to being independent.
- ④ That's a great idea. I need to be finally free of having to look after you.

B : Of course, but living away from home is not just about having your freedom. You'll have to learn to cook, for a start.

A : 6

- (6) ① I don't want to be a cook. I told you I wanted to be a history teacher.
- ② Your cooking is really awful. I don't understand how anyone can eat it.
- ③ We wouldn't be so far away. I could send you meals anytime you like.
- ④ True, but I've got the best teacher here at home. You can teach me.

B : That's nice of you to say so. Maybe we can start your first lesson tonight by cooking dinner together.
